

Although the reference desk is still the primary information venue and the most visible of the services in an academic library, the emergence of new technologies and societal and cultural changes are diminishing the relevance of the face-to-face reference interview.

Contemporary students are trending toward communicating with librarians by phone, email or the increasingly popular chat online.

Nicholas Taylor

Catholic Library World

107

Seeking Assistance in an Academic Library

114

Award-Winning Documentary Films: A Visual Presentation

116

What Am I Reading Now?

